January 31, 2007 was the new deadline for Local Clay membership dues in order to be eligible to participate in ClayFest. 48 people missed the deadline including three ClayFest chairs. We discussed offering a blanket grace period for ClayFest eligibility through April 15 with a $30 penalty to be paid with the ClayFest application. If someone pays Local Clay dues after January 31 and does not plan to participate in ClayFest, there is no penalty. The money received from the $30 penalty will go to Clay in Ed or Workshops. The discussion was set aside for approval at the Membership meeting.

The Local Clay/ClayFest website came up for discussion. The Board agreed that the previous year's ClayFest website should always remain intact until the current year's website is created. Paula recommended that any member of Local Clay should be eligible to have their work appear on the website, regardless of whether they participate in ClayFest. It was agreed that the Webmaster should be able to move pictures around but not remove photos without discussing the matter with the Board in advance. We need guidelines for the webpage. Don Clarke does an excellent job as Webmaster. Kay will ask him to write a job description for the Webmaster so we will have a better grasp of the function.
